OBC (including OBC – A and OBC – B) category candidates intending to get seats under non-creamy layer category are to note that they are to bring latest renewed /revalidated certificate from the same authority who issued the certificate. The certificate of OBC with non-creamy layer status is required to be issued after 31.3.2015 or revalidated or renewed after 31.3.2015 Reserved Category benefit out of non-creamy layer OBC (including OBC-A and OBC – B) status is a dynamic concept, hence the condition as stated be fulfilled. This is in conformity with the Updated Guidelines for issuance of OBC certificates vide memorandum no. 1204-SBCW/MR- dated 27 July 2015 of Backward classes Welfare Department of Government of West Bengal in continuation with Guideline for issuance of Other Backward Classes Certificates were issued vide Memo no. 1464-BCW/MR-59/10 dated 30.04.2010. Candidates from other States intending to appear test has to show latest order regarding revalidation / renewal of order for non-creamy layer status if differs from the order of Govt. of West Bengal. But such order will be validated through on-line. Income certificate is not required as per Clause 6(2) , sub-clause e (vii) when the certificate is revalidated or renewed declaring non-creamy layer status.

Certificates mentioning non-creamy layer for OBC candidates (including OBC – A and OBC – B) issued before 31.3.2015 only require revalidation/renewal. Candidates who got OBC certificate after 31.3.2015 need not submit current Income certificate /revalidation to substantiate his/her claim as under reserved category of OBC (including OBC-A and OBC – B). Act does not provide provision of income certificate from People's Representatives. Seats under OBC category are applicable in National Institute of Homeopathy (NIH) only.

All the reserved category certificates will be verified at the time of admission and after admission. If it is found that "Reserved Category Status" is not proper, the admission will be cancelled.

For seats in NIH, 200- point roster will start form serial 198. For State Government colleges, 100 point roster will start from serial 10. If the reserved category of seats are not filled up due to want of eligible reserved category candidates, this will be open for unreserved after de-reservation as per extant rule in the continued counseling. However all candidates are allowed to exercise choices for all the available seats.
